Richmond Will Celebrate Armistice Day

START OF CENTRAL VALLEY PROJECT TO BE CELEBRATED

DEVELOPMENT

A REAL PROGRESS FETE

Near Oakley in Eastern Contra Costa County at 2 p.m. next Sunday groundbreaking ceremonies for the beginning of construction on the Contra Costa County Conduit, initial unit of the Central Valley Water Project will take place.

Very properly, the master of ceremonies is to be Thomas M. Carlson, leading Richmond attorney, who was a vital factor in this fight for California's betterment from the start. Also in attendance will be Clifford C. Anglim, in 1933 the spearhead of the fight on the floor of the California lower house, now the State Democratic Chairman, and former State Senator Will R. Sharkey, in 1933 the Contra Costa ace in the upper house. It is regrettable that Senator W. G. McAdoo, who was the final and deciding factor in getting the national administration to approve the neccessary expenditure will not be able to attend.

Speaker of the day will be Governor Frank F. Merriam, and on the program will be Congressman Carter, State Senator Crittenden and many more who had little to do with the the success of this very necessary project.

However credit should, indeed, be given to the Contra Costa County Development Association which sponsored the celebration. It is a fine thing.

CITY GOVERNMENT

H. K. PETERSON, AUDITOR

All of Point Richmond is gratified to know that Bertel K. Peterson, popular son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Peterson, of Crest avenue, has been chosen by the unanimous vote of the city council to be the City Auditor for Richmond.

A graduate of Richmond Union High School a few years ago Bertel completed a course in business administration later, has been auditor a large insurance company in San Francisco for some time Congratulations.

(Incidentally, that makes 15 appointments in a row by the council to local men—not outsiders. If the council keeps that up there won't be much for the PROGRESS to yell about, will there be?)

The position was made vacant by Miss Marie Whiteside's resignation after she had become Mrs. Barbee. A word of praise is ctrtinly in order for her after years of work on the city's books without any mistake.

OTHER BUSINESS

Ordered 1900 ft. of fire hose; renewed agreements with the city band, Cottage Hospital, and City Health Center on the usual basis. Ordered traffic signal for 10h and Macdonald avenues. Miscellaneous permits.

SPORTS

RICHMOND HI IS ON THE GO

Hats off to our victorious and unbeaten Richmond Union High School "Oilers." Today they are meeting Hayward; and on next Wednesday, the Piedmont Highlanders. Turn out and root for them for the glory they are bringing to good old Richmond.

COUNTY GOVT.

BOYD IS TAX COLLECTOR

Chief assistant Tax Collector of Contra Costa County for many years has been S. S. Boyd. On the death of the late Sheriff R. R. Veale, the position of tax collector became vacant and Mr. Boyd was the unanimous choice finish out the term ending Jan. 1st 1939.

LABOR

THE JUKE AND LABOR

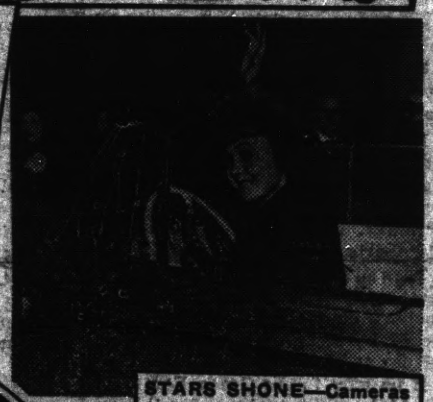

We honestly believe that if Ed, the Duke of Windsor, had not stressed the labor angle of his American visit nothing would have been said or thought about Mr. "B-Unit" Bedeau. As it happened American Labor did the only thing it could do.

In The WEEK'S NEWS

Automobiles steal the headlines again as the New York Automobile Show starts the annual wave of motor exhibits across the country. The public's avid interest in the new cars is shown in these news-pictures of Motordom on Parade.

STARS SHONE—Cameras popped as celebrities of society, stage and screen gathered to view the new cars. Here is Nancy Carroll snapped at the wheel of a snappy convertible.

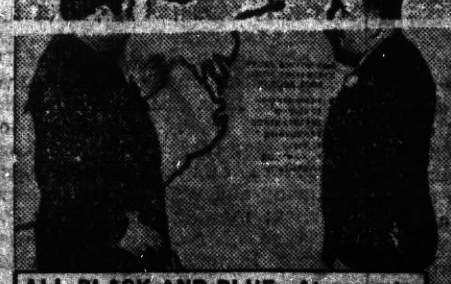

TO THE QUEEN'S TASTE — Milady's preferences have been the target of designers, for such luxury features as adjustable front seats, arm-rests, easier steering and rich mohair velvet upholsteries are standard in even low-priced cars. This young show visitor, at least, seems to be pleased.

MAGNET FOR CROWDS — A partial view of the crowds that jammed the showroom floor when the new 1938 automobiles were unveiled.

ALL BLACK AND BLUE—At any rate, these two colors are the favorites of motorists in selecting new cars. William S. McLean (right), Fisher Body advertising director, demonstrates to Leon Gordon, noted artist, an illuminated wall map that shows the car color preferences of various parts of the country.

LINKS AMERICAN CARS—The Archduke Franz Joseph of Austria (right), who is in this country to buy a new car and an airplane, discusses motors and motoring with Harlow H. Curtice, president of Buick.

AMATEUR ENGINEERS — Absorbed spectators inspect one of the mechanical innovations of the show—a new method of rear axle coil suspension that smooths out bumps in the rear seat as knee action did in the front.

VETERANS

ANNUAL HONOR FOR VETS

Armistice Day will be fittingly observed in Richmond this year by a fine parade which will start at 9:30 a.m. at First and Macdonald, march to Twenty-third and Macdonald and counter march to Twelfth Street, at which point the procession will turn off to Memorial Park to listen to the program will will remember our war heroes of 1917.

Parade will feature the 143d Field Artillery, a radio military unit, war veterans and auxiliaries, various civic and fraternal organizations including the Contra Costa County horsemen. J. J. Barry is parade marshal.

Speaker at the ceremony will be Legionairre Arthur B. Dunne of Gladstone Post, American Legion of San Francisco. He will be introduced by Carl Stender, commander of Richmond American Legion Post No. 10.; Rev. J. Irving Rhoades and Father Michael Crotty will offer the invocation and benediction, and Mrs. Grace McMasters will lead in singing the Star Spangled Banner.

ARMISTICE BALL

Tomorrow (Saturday) night at Memorial Hall will take place the Annual Armistice Ball of the American Legion. Always a great social event, every one should attend. The popular Dan M. (Hap) Bradley is chairman, assisted by Legionnaires Wiles, Spires, Tillmon, Kearney, Smith, Braaten, Dexter and Davis.

NATIONAL NEWS

LA GUARDIA WINS

Truly laughable was the attempt of anti-F. D. R. metropolitan newspapers to pretend gratification at New York Mayor La Guardia's overwhelming victory over the Democratic candidate Mahoney last Tuestay as being a blow to President Roosevelt and the New Deal. Truth is that the anti-New Deal candidate (Senator Copeland) was beaten out in the primary! Both La Guardia and Mahoney were "new deal" candidates; and just about the only way to figure F. D. R.'s strength in New York City is to give him all of La Guardia's votes, and nearly all of Mahoney's votes.

STATE GOVT.

SAWALLISCH WINS HONOR

Contra Costa County is proud of our Assemblyman, Harold F. Sawallisch. This week he has been honored by appointment to be chairman of the very important Motor Vehicle Interim Committee. In no better hands, we think, could this important post be placed. This progressive and young Democratic barrister is slated to go far as a true representative of the people. He is also engaged now in seeing justice being given to our farmers and to the general public on the Carquinez Bridge fares.

"Nonsense! If you don't get the girl there won't be any war."

Enthusiasm

"Was my father very violent when you asked if you could marry me?"

"Was he! He nearly wrung my hand off!"

REDDY FOX IS LAUGHED AT

REDDY FOX was miserable. Yes, sir, Reddy Fox was miserable. To be continually laughed at is enough to make any one miserable. No one ever likes to be laughed at unless they are trying to make people laugh at them. Reddy Fox wasn't doing anything of that kind. Oh my, no! No, indeed! Reddy considers himself a very fine gentleman and so, of course, he wouldn't think of doing anything to make people laugh at him. But they did laugh at him just the same, even the very smallest, and it was all because of the way he ran from Buster Bear with Jumper the Hare right at his heels. You see everybody pretended to believe that it was from Jumper that he was running away.

So Reddy was very miserable. If he went down on the Green Meadows Danny Meadow Mouse would be sure to call out:

"Mr. Reddy has a scare
At the shadow of a hare."

Then Danny would laugh in the most provoking manner, and hide where Reddy could not get at him.

If he went up to the Old Orchard he was sure to hear from Johnny Chuck:

"When Jumper gets him on the go
Reddy's anything but slow."

Then Johnny would dive into the house and all Reddy could do would be to grit his teeth.

If he went to the Green Forest he Pool he would no sooner come in sight of Jerry Muskrat than Jerry would shout:

"Reddy, Reddy, you watch out!
Jumper's somewhere hereabout."

Then Jerry would laugh in the most provoking way and Reddy couldn't do a thing, because Jerry would be swimming with only his head out of water.

If he went to the Green Forest he would be sure to hear Unc' Billy Possum's funny chuckle from some tree overhead and then Unc' Billy would say:

"Ah done hear say it fo' a fac',
Who runs away will sho' come back."

Then all Reddy could do would be to grind his teeth and tell Unc' Billy what dreadful things he would do to him if he ever caught him.

Now, of course, all that the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows did these things for was to tease Reddy Fox. When he grew angry they laughed, and the angrier he grew the harder they laughed. Of course that wasn't at all nice of them. But they didn't stop to think of that. Not one of them loves Reddy Fox, and now that they had a chance to get even with him for all the frights he had given them, and for all the mean things he had done to them, they were just bound to make the most of it. You see it didn't enter their heads that they might be making trouble for some one else. All they thought of was making Reddy Fox feel miserable.

But it is not very often that you or I or anybody else can make trouble for just one person. Did you ever think of that? It's so. You go ask Jumper the Hare. All Jumper's friends were laughing at Reddy Fox, and shouting mean things at him and calling him a coward, because they knew it made Reddy feel uncomfortable and miserable. It didn't once enter their heads that they were making trouble for any one else. Yet they were. They were making a lot of trouble for some one else, and that some one was Jumper the Hare.

FIRST-AID TO AILING HOUSE

By ROGER B. WHITMAN

UNSTEADY WATER LEVEL

A HOME owner is likely to be disturbed when he finds that the water in the gauge glass of his steam boiler is in violent action; that it does not remain at a steady level. The common cause for this is dirt and oil in the water. The effect is to cut down the efficiency of the boiler, to make heating less effective, and possibly to expose the boiler to damage.

With a newly installed heating system, oil used in making the pipe connections eventually works back to the boiler and makes trouble. And not only oil; dirt in the pipes is also carried down. A new boiler should be cleaned a week or so after it has gone into service. Some months later there should be another cleaning. After that, if the water used is reasonably clean, the boiler should run for many seasons before a repetition is needed.

Cleaning a boiler consists of using a cleaning compound that has the property of absorbing oil. The compound should not dissolve; it should be of such a nature that its particles, in circulating through the boiler, will have a grinding effect on scale and hardened sediment. The compound should remain in the boiler for a week or so when the fire is burning. The boiler should then be drained. The drain valve of a boiler is usually too small for the violent flow that would carry out the sediment. To assist matters, water under city pressure should be flushed through the boiler. A connection can be made at the safety valve opening; another at the lower connection of the gauge glass, which is to be unscrewed from the boiler wall; a third at the water supply connection.

Many compounds are offered as boiler cleaners, but only a few of them are really effective. Washing soda is sometimes used, but is of little practical benefit. The boiler manufacturer can be asked to make a recommendation. An old established and reliable steam fitter is likely to recommend a compound that he knows to be effective rather than one that offers him a good profit.

When the water level is seen to be unsteady, a pint or so of boiler water should be drawn off and heated in a saucepan. If it comes to a boil in the normal way, the boiler does not need cleaning. But if the water foams and sputters, cleaning is necessary, for there are substances in the water that check efficient operation.

A home owner can clean his boiler; but in general, it is best to have the job done by a professional.

HOW TO SEW

by Ruth Wyeth Spears

There May Be Many Reasons for Making Quilted Chair Pads.

IF ALL the reasons for quilted chair pads were lined up in order of their importance the most intangible reason of all might head the list. Yes, it is quite likely that any decorator, amateur or professional would place atmosphere at the top. But then it is also possible that first rating might be given to the reason that the pressure of slats across the backs of chairs is softened by quilted pads. Then, though it might not be mentioned, it is a known fact that worn out cane seats are sometimes replaced with inexpensive composition seats which may be disguised by gay quilted pads.

Chintz, calico or gingham chair pads are in fact one of the simplest and most inexpensive ways of adding color and charm as well as comfort to a room. Such pads are often used on the backs of chairs and not on the seats, and especially for side chairs, the seat pads used without any back covering. In making such small things as these it is quite easy to do the quilting on the machine. Or, if you wish to take the other point of view about it, the work of quilting them by hand would not consume an unreasonable amount of time. There is no doubt that handwork has a certain quaintness that machine work lacks.

The pads shown here are made with one layer of sheet wadding between the two layers of the chintz. The edge bindings and ties are made of bias tape. Cut the three layers of the pad material exactly the size and shape you want them to be when finished. Place the sheet wadding between the two layers of covering material as shown here at A. Either pin or baste in this position, and then quilt as shown here at B. Make the ties by stitching the lengthwise edges of the bias tape together, and then tack them to the corners of the pad as at C before it is bound. Now, bind the edges, sewing the ties right in with the binding as shown here at D.

Every Homemaker should have a copy of Mrs. Spears' new book, SEWING. Forty-eight pages of step-by-step directions for making slipcovers and dressing tables; restoring and upholstering chairs, couches; making curtains for every type of room and purpose. Making lampshades, rugs, ottomans and other useful articles for the home. Readers wishing a copy should send name and address, enclosing 25 cents, to Mrs. Spears, 210 South Desplaines St., Chicago, Illinois.

The record time for making a suit of clothes—from sheep to man—is held by a textile concern in Huddersfield, England. Not long ago it sheared twelve sheep, made the wool into yarn, wove the yarn into cloth and cut and sewed the cloth into a three-piece man's suit in 130 minutes.—Collier's Weekly.

HARMONY OF BODY MIND AND SPIRIT

By Taniz Tanagra

HARMONIZING OURSELVES

Let's try to harmonize our selves with our family.

If some one in the family is tired or cross and nervous do not accept this unfortunate but common condition as a challenge and immediately develop a mood of your own which will create a greater discord. . but rather try to honestly make your presence a comfort and a help. . too many of us do not try hard enough to bring comfort and happiness to those in the home or to harmonize and understand our family.

This is a splendid world in which to live when we can not only find harmony for ourselves but also harmonize ourselves with conditions. . situations and those we come in contact with..

I am feeling particularly grateful as I sit on my porch at sunset. Grateful that I am privileged to live where my eyes may see so much beauty that is food for my soul.

Across a mirrored bay the hills are purple hued and soft with the last reflections of a setting sun.

In this tormented world of unrest and turmoil I am privileged to sit with the quiet of eventide. . . at peace with myself and all peoples.

Trinity Guild

Mr. and Mrs. M. Fischer have been entertaining their daughter Bertha who resides in San Francisco during her vacation.

Not All Can Laugh

A person with a sandpaper tongue may create more gayety, but he with a velvet one is more comforting.

The increase of knowledge only produces more to wonder about.

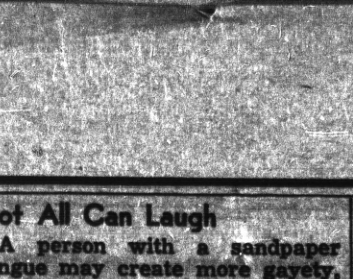

To make a rooster, the vainest of creatures, run, is the first triumph of a very small boy.

By courage and holding one's nose much can be accomplished.

A gossip makes a mountain out of a molehill and then brings it to you.

It seems as if none of our history would ever be as interesting as the founding of the 13 colonies.

THE REASON HEADACHES ARE RELIEVED SO FAST

THE REASON BAYER ASPIRIN WORKS SO FAST

Drop a Bayer Aspirin tablet into a tumbler of water.

By the time it hits the bottom of the glass it is disintegrating.

This speed of disintegration enables genuine BAYER Aspirin tablets to start "taking hold" of headache and similar pain a few minutes after taking.

All people who suffer occasionally from headaches ought to know this way to quick relief.

At the first sign of such pain, take two Bayer Aspirin tablets with a half glass of water. Sometimes if the pain is more severe, another dose is necessary later, according to directions.

If headaches keep coming back we advise you to see your own physician. He will look for the cause in order to correct it.

The price now is only 15¢ for twelve tablets or two full dozen for 25 cents — virtually, only a cent apiece.

WHEN you have those awful cramps; when your nerves are all on edge—don't take it out on the man you love.

Your husband can't possibly know how you feel for the simple reason that he is a man.

A three-quarter wife may be no wife at all if she nags her husband seven days out of every month.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

1939 San Francisco Fair Speeds Construction

Ten million dollars' worth of buildings for the 1939 Golden Gate International exposition are already under construction on Treasure Island, San Francisco bay site of the fair. Photograph shows the latest air view of the exposition grounds. In the immediate foreground are the ferry slips and ferry terminal designed to handle peak world's fair crowds of more than 40,000 persons an hour.

Unleavened Bread Old

Egyptians and the ancient Chinese centuries ago made "a leavened loaf of the flour of grain." Through most literature there have been allusions to bread. Athenaeus mentioning 62 varieties. The unleavened form of bread has been used ever since man learned to use grain for food.

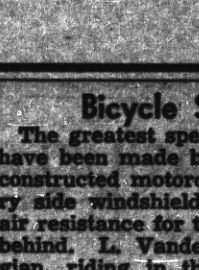

Bicycle Speed

The greatest speeds on bicycles have been made behind specially constructed motorcycles that carry side windshields to break the air resistance for the cyclist close behind. L. Vanderstuyft, a Belgian, riding in this way in the Paris autodrome in 1928, traveled 76 miles 503 yards in one hour, which appears to be the world's record. Jean Brunier, in the same manner, rode 75 miles 279 yards in one hour.

I WAS NEVER SO EMBARRASSED

—FOR I KNEW THAT ACID-INDIGESTION WAS DISTRESSING TO ME AND OFFENSIVE TO OTHERS

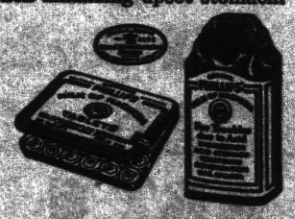

BUT NOW—I JUST ALKALIZE THE EASY PHILLIPS' WAY

The quick way to alkalize is this: Take two teaspoons of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia 30 minutes after eating and drinking. Or, when among others — take two Phillips' Tablets that come in a small flat tin you carry in purse or vest pocket. — You do it unnoticed.

Relief is almost immediate. "Gas," nausea, acid breath and other offensive symptoms leave.—That "stuffed" feeling and pains from "acid indigestion" cease to annoy. You feel great.

This is the way, we believe, more doctors use than any other when alkalizing upset stomach.

Hold Secrets

The truly wise man should have no keeper of his secret but himself.—Guizot.

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

THE CAULIFLOWER COLYUM

By Frankie Neil

Former Bantamweight Champion of the World

When I arrived in Manila I was invited by Mr. Edward Tait to be his guest for the time I was to stay in the Islands. He arranged for rooms for me at the Hotel Metropole and I was sitting pretty with a Filipino valet and all.

Even an automobile and a chauffer was put at my disposal and I toured the Islands in real style. At the park I saw some wonderful animals in the zoo. On the beach I saw some really wonderful swimmers, both boys and girls. It looked to me as if the islanders were under fed, but, oh boy, they were wiry and tough.

At the Manila Athletic Club I was asked if I would put on the gloves with one of the boys. Of course I would so they got a couple of the Filipino boys to mix it with me. I learned then how tough, physically, those little fellows are.

In spite of being champion, up to that time it had always been my style to start swinging as soon as the gong sounded and to put everything I had into every punch. I was never one to pull my punches. So, naturally, I hit these boys with everything I had. And they took the blows and just snikerred, not laughing, but just snickerring.

I knew then that the time would come when these islanders would make themselves felt in the lighter weight divistons of the boxing game.

I was as fit as fiddle for boxing then, as I had worked out on the ship with some of the soldiers on deck. I was glad I had as these little Filipino fellers gave me quite a few on the beezer, just a few on the button. My lunch room was intact after the contest but my poor back was rosy and sore.

After the boxing we went back to the hotel and watched a few games of cards and billiards. Towards five o'clock we went over to the Hotel De France for dinner, as fine for service and cuisine as I had ever eaten.

Mr. Tait was the only moving picture impresario in Manila so we had a fine time visiting all of the picture houses. About that time the fat man John Bunny was a star, and he was funny, the laugh of your life.

A few nights later there was a boxing show, and of course I was the distinguished guest. At that time I predicted that some of the Filipino boys would become champions themselves and it now looks like that was a pretty good prediction as some of them have already done so.

After the fights we had a fine dinner and visited a carnival where they had same of the finest floats and costumes and the sweetest music I ever heard.

Then we went to the Tea Gardens and the girls were very sweet and nice, pretty and natural, with no cosmetics all over them or with plucked eyebrows or plastered down hair, painted scarlet lips and dabs of rouge on their cheeks. I did see some of that in China later, though.

Mrs. Ann Huff and Mrs. Viola Hickman returned recently from an auto trip to Denver, Colo. They report a wonderful vacation lasting about three months.

Mrs. T. T. Cramer left Tuesday night for a visit to her former home in Topeka, Kansas. She expects to be away about three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Owens who have been visiting Mr. Owens' parents Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Owens left for their southern home last week.

STAR DUST

★★★By VIRGINIA VALE★★★

CARY GRANT is all set to be the busiest actor in Hollywood for the next year. Now working with Katherine Hepburn in "Bringing Up Baby," he is all set to rush from that to "Love on Parole," with Miriam Hopkins, after which he will support Ruby Keeler in her first R. K. O. picture.

Columbia pictures hold a contract with him also, and will have several stories ready for him just as soon as he finishes his stint on the R.K.O. lot. And somehow or other, Cary expects to find time to play one of the leads in Sam Goldwyn's production of the ever-popular romance, "Graustark." If you heard him on the air recently with Irene Dunne, giving excerpts from "The Awful Truth," which theaters will be showing soon, you don't need to be told that it is a thoroughly delightful picture.

Cary Grant

Practically all of the motion-picture companies have decided that comics in sets of three bring sure success. R.K.O. has the Marx brothers now, Twentieth Century-Fox have the Ritz brothers with their hilarious antics, and Paramount has signed up the Yacht Club boys to appear in three more pictures for them.

Hollywood producers wish that plump girls were fashionable. Insistence on streamlined figures causes them no end of worry. Many of the stars noted for their beauty and chic have to live on strict diets in order to stay slim, and when they are working on a strenuous schedule they get so run down that they have no resistance to colds. Recently on the ailing list were Carole Lombard, Alice Faye, Joan Crawford, Virginia Bruce, Simone Simon, and Zorina, the lovely Russian dancer who is soon to make her debut in Goldwyn pictures.

Closest friends of Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., thought that his great success as an actor in "The Prisoner of Zenda" had cured him of all ambitions to be a producer in England. Douglas says they are wrong. As soon as he finishes playing opposite Ginger Rogers in "Having a Wonderful Time," he will be off to London again to be the big boss of a production company. In the future he will spend six months of each year in Hollywood working as an actor, the other six in London producing pictures.

ODDS AND ENDS—One of the most important instruments in B. A. Rolfe's orchestra is an ordinary tin can filled with coins. Shaken by the drummer, this gives out those minor tinkling notes like Oriental bells that build up the gruesome atmosphere of Ripley's weirdest Believe It or Not . . . Eddie Cantor's recent high spirits, even higher than usual, are due to the general verdict that his new picture "Ali Baba Goes to Town" is by far the best he has ever made . . . Ginger Rogers' favorite tribute came from a cameraman when she had finished her big dramatic scene in "Stage Door." He hollered at her: "Throw away those dancing shoes."

Glove-and-Bag Ensemble Is Latest

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

LOOK to your accessories! This is a season when the accessory theme reigns uppermost in the minds of designers. Fashion demands accessory items that not only tune to a nicety to your costume but they must radiate glamor and be as elegant "as thy purse can buy."

So all-important, so outstanding has this idea of smart accessories become in the scheme of things, 'twould almost seem as if the clothes we wear were made to serve merely as a background to show off the swank, the splendor and romance of the added accents in way of jewelry, gloves, handbags and belts, headwear, neckwear, footwear and even the very "hankies" we carry or proudly display in capricious little pockets that may not be so utilitarian as they are decorative.

Especially do handbags reflect this trend of the mode to indulge in elegance and glamor. Leathers are softer, trimmings are more startling and to add to the fuss and furor now raging in behalf of accessories, designers have worked to achieve matching ensembles of bag and gloves which make it simple for the woman of impeccable taste to dress up to her standard.

The illustration shows a trio of perfectly stunning ensembles by David Lewis, American designer, noted for his leather artistry. Here gloves and handbags are matched in a manner so striking the entire costume takes on an air so smart there is none smarter.

Black with gold accents is the favorite language of fashion these times. It's gold and glamor that makes its way into the styling of the handsome and distinctive dressy afternoon and cocktail set to the right below in the picture. For this ensemble the softest of black antelope is used in a frameless skirt-type bag with black bengaline to line it. Gussets of gold kid are set in with inverted pleats both front and back. The soft handles have the "feel" of luxury and the slide-fastener closing adds the practical note. The matching black antelope slip-on gloves are hand-stitched and have gold details, but the back of the glove is devoid of any knuckle stitching which cites an important trend this season.

Tiny perforations are one of the newest style notes in leather. You will undoubtedly see bag-and-glove sets as pictured to the left above at the smartest places. Black perforated antelope soft as a kitten's ear is used for this ensemble—the air-conditioned idea carried out even to one's accessories. The bag is beautifully lined with slipper satin. The short pull-on gloves to match are handstitched and have a corded binding at the wrist but no stitching on the backs.

One of the loveliest of the Lewis tailored bags (see pictured to right above) is simple and squarish in shape, with white cross-stitched whipped edges. The handles are set on the bag with tiny cross stitches, which is the only trim. A slide-fastener gives a wide opening for convenience. This bag comes in grand fall accessory colors and is made of antelope, lined with bengaline. Short pull-on gloves with matching cross stitches around the fingers and the entire glove make this set a striking example of how American designers are keyed to create what the American women want and will wear. Such lovely accessories thrill us with the knowledge that we are correct even to the fingertips.

Use of Modesty

A just and reasonable modesty does not only recommend eloquence, but sets off every great talent which a man can be possessed of. It heightens all the virtues which it accompanies; like the shades in paintings, it raises and rounds every figure, and makes the colors more beautiful, though not so glaring as they would be without it.—Addison.

No. 9. "To Safeguard and Transmit to Posterity the Principles of Justice, Freedom and Democracy."

No nation can long endure that fails to care for its future citizens. No greater assurance for the future can be offered America than that part of the American Legion program which seeks to safeguard and transmit to posterity the ideals of Justice, Freedom, and Democracy.

When the founding fathers fashioned our government more than a century and a half ago, the firm basis upon which they built was the principle of one union dedicated to justice, freedom and democracy. In the United States that principle is observed and extended to every citizen in greater proportion than in any other nation that has yet risen upon this earth.

In the century and a half since our form of government was established, the world probably has seen greater changes than in all of the rest of the years combined. In quick successive steps we have progressed from the day of the stage coach and the sail boat to the era of steam and electricity. Distances which in our forefather's days were not even dreamed of may now be travelled in the space of a few hours. Every human activity moves at a speed which would have staggered the founders.

Yet, though it all, the form of government which they established has survived and progressed to become the seat of the greatest democracy in all the world, the one place where the individual may enjoy the fruits of absolute freedom limited in opportunity by the obligation he owes society to abide by the restrictions which are neccessarily set up for the protection of all the people.

The American Legion realizes of course, that government, like science, progresses. Times do change and America must then change, too. We do not hold that government is static, that the instrumentalities by which we live are to remain in the stage coach age while industry and the people pass on in the dawn of the airplane and motor car. We do not, therefore, deny the right of the people to make such changes as they, the people, may deem necessary in the interest of keeping our government in tune with the era and the time. The people have the constitutional right to make such changes, and never will the influence of The American Legion be used to abridge that right.

In one sense, a man who has fought for his country is somewhat in the position of the youngest son of a large family. Neither parents, nor older brothers or sisters, ever realize that he has grown up. To them, he is always the little boy who was to be seen but not heard. So it is, in some respects, with the veterans.

The people remember us as the mere boys who marched off to war. Few of them realize that in the two years we spent in the service of our country, many of us enduring hardships and dangers impossible to understand by those who have not experienced them, we aged many, many years, almost overnight we stepped from glowing youth to mature manhood. In the eighteen years that have passed since the end of the war, most of us have grown families and the responsibilities of business; we are what might be termed in the prime of life. Therefore, we are to be trusted to give full consideration to the welfare and the future of our country.

In so doing, we can not overlook the obvious fact that the basis upon which our government was founded is as strong today as the day it was laid, neither time nor tempest have prevailed against it; we believe it will last through to eternity. At least, we are sure that it is a safe basis to pass on to our children, and in which to instruct all American youths, to the end that the nation they inherit shall be the same strong, fair, and virile government we inherited from our fathers, extending to all citizens the promise of continued justice, freedom and democracy.

Birds Eye View of Contra Costa County Conduit of Central Valley Water Project

This striking airplane view shows the route of the Contra Costa Conduit of the Central Valley Water Project, clearly indicates how it will serve the central, eastern and northern sections of the county, delivering a new supply of fresh water at low cost to municipalities, industries and agricultural interests. The conduit will be an open concrete trench 45 miles long, will cost about $4,000,000 and will be completed in about eighteen months. This unit, of which four miles is now being constructed, is the initial feature of the Central Valley Water Project, made possible by funds allocated by the Federal government in Washington. The photograph, with the lettering, shows most of Contra Costa County and much of the surrounding area, indicating the county's relation to the back country. An elaborate celebration, sponsored by the Contra Costa County Development Association, will be held on Sunday afternoon, November 7th, at the point of construction, about three-quarters of a mile east of Oakley.
